

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Professional Computer Systems, Co. Partners with Powel, Inc.

Denison, IA – July 15, 2009 – Professional Computer Systems, Co, (PCS) is pleased to announce their partnership with Powel, Inc., (Powel) located in St. Paul, MN. PCS specializes in the development and support of multi-service utility billing and accounting software. Powel provides WorkStudio, a Mobile Work Management platform with office-based analysis. Partnering with Powel allows PCS to offer clients tight integration between the PCS applications and Powel's WorkStudio Suite, including StakeOut for field design. PCS has already developed an interface with the StakeOut application which ties directly to PCS's accounting application, Utilit-e Insight. A new interface is in development for the WorkStudio Suite application which ties PCS' Utilit-e Connect Service Orders to Powel Work Management. This interface is expected to be available by late 2009.

Scott Rogers, CEO of Powel, Inc, says, "We are excited to be partnering with PCS. PCS has shown exactly the kind of committed integration development that is needed for utilities to get the most value from their software. PCS will now be able to use the WorkStudio Suite to offer their customers a complete solution for work orders and service orders."

"PCS strives to provide an enterprise solution," comments Kim Ingerslev, President and CEO of PCS. "Not only do we want to bring our core accounting, billing, e-Commerce and hosting options to our utility clients, we want to provide options to integrate seamlessly to other 3rd party applications. PCS can provide this enterprise by integrating with key vendors like Powel who are experts in their field. It is just one more way to bring increased value to our customers."
